

Bite type fittings correspond to ISO standards

Bite type fittings correspond to ISO standards that are applied widely to the machine tool market. As tightening can be completed by turning the nut fully, easy and secure piping work with less variation is performed.